WHO pandemic treaty: A fresh push for vaccine passports, global surveillance, and more

By Tom Parker | Reclaim The Net | May 20, 2022

Members of the World Health Organization (WHO) are days away from voting on an international pandemic treaty and amendments to the International Health Regulations (2005) which would give the unelected WHO greater control of national emergency healthcare decisions and new powers to push vaccine passports, global surveillance, and "global coordinated actions" that address "misinformation" wherever it declares a "health emergency."

From May 22 to May 28, representatives of the WHO's 194 member states (which represent 98% of all the countries in the world) will attend a World Health Assembly meeting in Geneva and vote on this treaty and the proposed amendments to the International Health Regulations (IHR). If passed, both the treaty and amendments to the IHR will be legally binding under international law.

The international pandemic treaty

The World Health Assembly (WHA), the decision-making body of the WHO, established an intergovernmental negotiating body (INB) to draft and negotiate a "global accord on pandemic prevention, preparedness and response" in December 2021. The WHA aims to have this treaty adopted under Article 19 of the WHO Constitution which gives the WHA the power to impose legally binding "conventions or agreements" on member states if two-thirds of the WHA vote in favor of them.

While the WHO framed this as an international pandemic treaty, the latest draft of the treaty has since evolved to cover all "health emergencies." Unlike the term "pandemic," which is limited in scope and refers to the worldwide spread of infectious disease, the WHO's definition of a "public health emergency of international concern" (PHEIC) is much broader and applies to all types of disease, regardless of whether they're infectious:

> "A PHEIC is defined in the IHR (2005) as, 'an extraordinary event which is determined to constitute a public health risk to other States through the international spread of disease and to potentially require a coordinated international response.'"

The draft treaty places the "WHO at the centre" and solidifies the WHO as "the directing and coordinating authority on international health" and gives it sweeping, legally binding powers to force member states to adopt many of the censorship and surveillance tools that were imposed during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Some of the key areas of the draft treaty include:

International vaccine passports and contact tracing: Member states will be required to "support the development of standards for producing a digital version of International Certificates of Vaccination and Prophylaxis" (the WHO's official vaccine passport). The WHO will also "develop norms and standards" for "digital technology applications relevant to international travel" such as contact tracing apps and digital health forms.

Global surveillance: The WHO will conduct "coordinated global surveillance of public health threats" and member states will be required to "develop and use surveillance systems and work with the WHO's global systems for surveillance." Non-state actors (which could include Big Tech companies) will also be required to work with governments, the WHO, and other international partners to oversee the "global collection, analysis and exchange of data" to prevent possible early warning and response systems."

Addressing "misinformation," "disinformation," and "too much information": The draft treaty pushes "national and global coordinated actions to address the misinformation, disinformation, and stigmatization, that undermine public health." Member states will also be required to "promote access to accurate information" to "influence management" (a term coined by the WHO that refers to "too much information including false or misleading information in digital and physical environments during a disease outbreak"). Additionally, non-state actors will be required to "take such measures" as governments to fight disinformation.

Funding: Member states are set to collectively pay the WHO over $950 million in dues for 2022-2023 and already paid over $270 million in voluntary contributions for 2020-2021. And this draft treaty proposes that G7 countries (Canada, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, the UK, and the US) also pay $11 billion for the "Access to COVID-19 Tools Accelerator (ACT-A)." Additionally, it intends to create an "International Pandemic Financing Facility" that will extract long-term (10-15 year) contributions of $5-10 billion per year.

We obtained a copy of the draft treaty for you here*.*

If this draft treaty is approved at the May 22 to May 28 WHA meeting, the INB will hold a second meeting on August 1 to discuss progress on the draft. A progress report will then be delivered at the 76th WHA meeting in May 2023. The final treaty will then be presented for adoption at the 77th WHA meeting in May 2024.

Proposed amendments to the International Health Regulations (2005)

On January 18, the Biden administration quietly sent the WHO its extensive proposed amendments to the IHR. The details of these proposed amendments were also first made public on the US government's website three months after they were sent.

Under the current IHR, 196 countries are legally required under international law to build the capability to detect and report potential public health emergencies worldwide and respond promptly to a public health emergency of international concern (PHEIC) whenever it's declared by the WHO.

These proposed amendments from the Biden administration give the WHO and its Director-General, Dr. Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus, sweeping new powers to declare public health emergencies, oversee the objection of member states, and implement global surveillance measures that require the mass collection of genetic sequence data.

Some of the key amendments that are being pushed by the Biden administration include:

Increased WHO powers to declare "potential" emergencies: Currently, the WHO can only declare a PHEIC when there's an actual "public health risk to other States through the international spread of disease." These proposed amendments allow it to declare a PHEIC when there's a "potential or actual" PHEIC. This means there doesn't have to be evidence of the international spread of disease, just the potential for it.

Increased WHO powers to declare health emergencies: Currently, the WHO has to follow the PHEIC criteria when declaring a public health emergency and health emergencies can only be declared by the Director-General. But under these proposed amendments, the WHO Director-General can appoint a committee to "influence management" (a term coined by the WHO that refers to "too much information including false or misleading information in digital and physical environments during a disease outbreak"). Additionally, non-state actors will be required to work with governments to fight disinformation.

Global surveillance and data sharing: The Biden administration's proposed amendments empower the WHO to develop new "early warning criteria" for monitoring "national, regional, or global risk posed by an event of unknown causes or sources." Additionally, these proposed amendments expand the scope of the data sharing under the IHR and require members to hand over genetic sequence data to the WHO whenever they have "the capacity" to do so. This would include a public health emergency of international concern."

We obtained a copy of the proposed amendments to the IHR for you here*.*

If these amendments are approved at the May 22 to May 28 WHA meeting, nations have six months to reject them. After six months, they'll enter into force and any rejection or reservation "shall have no effect."

The WHO's history of supporting surveillance and acting as an arbiter of truth

Not only could this treaty and the proposed amendments to the IHR empower the unelected WHO to push surveillance, vaccine passports, and global programs that target what it deems to be "misinformation" but this international health agency already gave the world a taste of how it exercises these powers during the COVID-19 pandemic. As COVID-19 spread, the WHO rigorously suppressed information and was increasingly used as an arbiter of truth on Big Tech platforms, even though it got many things wrong.

YouTube, Facebook, Wikipedia, and others have partnered with the WHO to tackle misinformation or display labels with information from the WHO. You can even go as far as to censor anyone who questions the WHO. Facebook removed over 800,000 videos under this policy.

Despite having significant influence over how these platforms determine which posts to brand as misinformation, the WHO has got many things about COVID wrong and amplified misleading statements. For example, in an infamous January 14, 2020 tweet, the WHO stated that "preliminary investigations conducted by the Chinese authorities have found no clear evidence of human-to-human transmission of the novel #coronavirus (2019-nCoV) identified in #Wuhan, #China."

World Health Organization (WHO)
@WHO
Preliminary investigations conducted by the Chinese authorities have found no clear evidence of human-to-human transmission of the novel #coronavirus (2019-nCoV) identified in #Wuhan, #China
CORONAVIRUS (2019-nCoV)
WHO Thailand and 2 others
11:18 AM · Jan 14, 2020 · Twitter Web App
23.5K Retweets
51.5K Quote Tweets
29.5K Likes

The WHO has also praised China's response to COVID while relies heavily on digital censorship and surveillance. Only recently did the WHO break this trend and criticize China's zero-COVID policy. And when it did, these digital censorship systems were unsurprisingly used to censor the WHO's statements on Chinese social platforms.

Another thing that the World heavily supported throughout the COVID-19 pandemic was vaccine passports. It pushed for them in December 2020 and it's still pushing for the adoption of global vaccine passports this year.

The WHO's undemocratic global governance system

The way the WHO gains its powers gives critics reason to be worried. Instead of the response to national emergencies in democratic nations being the sole purview of elected officials who can vote on proposed measures that apply to their citizens and be held accountable at the ballot box by those citizens, WHO members vote on legally binding international treaties and agreements on their behalf via the World Health Assembly. If two-thirds of the WHA vote to adopt a treaty or agreement, it becomes legally binding under international law.

This global governance system has the support of both parties in most democratic countries. For example, during the 2022 Australian federal election campaign, both of the leading candidates expressed full support for the WHO's expanded powers.

And the WHO Director-General has used the COVID-19 pandemic to push countries to further embrace the WHO's global governance system by blasting nations that made their decisions and claiming that their "me-first" approaches…stymie the global solidarity needed to deal with a global threat."

Countries that support the WHO's expanded powers

Many countries have expressed support for the international pandemic treaty or the proposed amendments to the IHR.

The US supports both the proposed treaty and amendments to the international pandemic treaty.

The treaty also has the support of the UK, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and the European Council (EC) (which represents 27 European Union (EU) member states). According to the EC, 110 countries supported the decision to launch negotiations on the treaty. If these 110 countries vote in favor of the treaty, it would give the WHA close to the two-thirds of the majority it needs to pass the treaty.

Opposition to the WHO's expanded powers

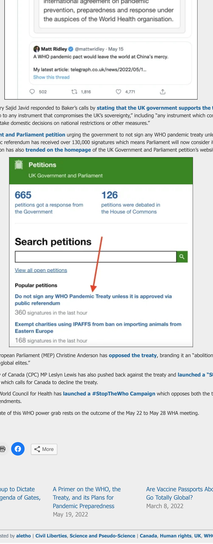
While there's significant member state support for these expanded WHO powers, local politicians, citizens, and rights groups are opposing this power grab.

In the US, Congresswoman Mary Miller (R-IL), Congressman Byron Donalds (R-FL), and Congressman Chris Smith (R-NJ), have opposed the Biden Administration's proposed amendments to the IHR.

Senator Rick Scott (R-Fla.), and Senator Tom Cotton (R-Ark.) have also opposed the Biden administration's support of the international pandemic treaty.

In Australia, Senator Malcolm Roberts (One Nation), Senator Alex Antic (Liberal Party), and Senator Gerard Rennick have opposed the international pandemic treaty.

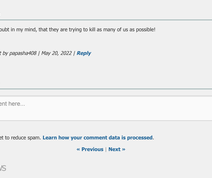
Several UK Members of Parliament (MPs), including the Conservative MPs Craig Mackinlay and Steve Baker, have also called for the government to provide clarity on the treaty.



Craig Mackinlay MP @craigmackinlay · May 16
I've had a morning meeting with officials regarding this mattching my own concerns about this role of proposal that seems to have just...
Steve Baker MP FRSA @ @SteveBakerHW · May 16
I just tabled a written question to @paljdavid and @DHSCgovuk asking for both a written and an oral statement on the UK's negotiating position in relation to the proposed international agreement on pandemic prevention, preparedness and response under the auspices of @WHO: tomorrow...
Show this thread
You are about to submit a 'Named day' Written Question to the Department of Health and Social Care to be answered by the 19/05/2022.
To ask the Secretary of State for Health and Social Care, if he will make both a written and an oral statement on the UK's negotiating position in relation to the proposed international agreement on pandemic prevention, preparedness and response under the auspices of the World Health Organisation.
253
981
3,082
Steve Baker MP FRSA @ @SteveBakerHW · May 16
I just tabled a written question to @paljdavid and @DHSCgovuk, asking for both a written and an oral statement on the UK's negotiating position in relation to the proposed international agreement on pandemic prevention, preparedness and response under the auspices of @WHO:
You are about to submit a 'Named day' Written Question to the Department of Health and Social Care to be answered by the 19/05/2022.
To ask the Secretary of State for Health and Social Care, if he will make both a written and an oral statement on the UK's negotiating position in relation to the proposed international agreement on pandemic prevention, preparedness and response under the auspices of the World Health Organisation.
Matt Ridley @mattwridley · May 15
A WHO pandemic pact would leave the world at China's mercy.
My latest article: telegraph.co.uk/news/2022/05/1...
Show this thread
502
1,816
4,771

UK Health Secretary Sajid Javid responded to Baker's calls by stating that the UK government supports the treaty but "would not sign up to any instrument that compromises the UK's sovereignty," including "any instrument that compromises the UK's ability to take domestic decisions on national restrictions or other measures."

A UK Government and Parliament petition urging the government to not sign any WHO pandemic treaty unless it's approved via public referendum has received over 136,000 signatures which means Parliament will now consider it for a debate. The petition has also trended on the homepage of the UK Government and Parliament petition's website.



Petitions
UK Government and Parliament
665 petitions got a response from the Government 126 petitions were debated in the House of Commons
Search petitions
View all open petitions
Popular petitions
Do not sign any WHO Pandemic Treaty unless it is approved via public referendum
360 signatures in the last hour
Exempt charities using IPAFFS from ban on importing animals from Eastern Europe
168 signatures in the last hour

Member of the European Parliament (MEP) Christine Anderson has opposed the treaty, branding it an "abolition of democracy by the global elites."

Conservative Party of Canada (CPC) MP Leslyn Lewis has also pushed back against the treaty and launched a "Stop The Treaty" petition which calls for Canada to decline the treaty.

And rights group World Council for Health has launched a #StopTheWho Campaign which opposes both the treaty and proposed IHR amendments.

But for now, the fate of this WHO power grab rests on the outcome of the May 22 to May 28 WHA meeting.

Share this:
More

Related

WHO Stealth Coup to Dictate Global Health Agenda of Gates, Big Pharma
May 19, 2022

A Primer on the WHO, the Treaty, and Its Plans for Pandemic Preparedness
May 19, 2022

Are Vaccine Passports About to Go Totally Global?
March 8, 2022

May 20, 2022 · Posted by aletho | Civil Liberties, Science and Pseudo-Science | Canada, Human rights, UK, WHO

1 Comment »

1. there is no doubt in my mind, that they are trying to kill as many of us as possible!
   Like
   Comment by papasha408 | May 20, 2022 | Reply

Leave a Reply

Enter your comment here...

This site uses Akismet to reduce spam. Learn how your comment data is processed.

« Previous | Next »

Featured Video

For more videos go to the Aletho News – Video Category or go to

Aletho News Archives – Video-Images

Film Review

Caught on camera – how Trump was robbed of the 2020 election

By Thomas Lane | TCW Defending Freedom | May 19, 2022

Joe Biden is president of the United States. That is an indisputable fact. But how he got to 306 Electoral College votes, as Biden won the presidency.

The statistical anomalies of the 2020 election alone make Biden's victory seem highly improbable.

Donald Trump's campaign rallies filled stadiums with tens of thousands of supporters; Biden's campaign events – when he left the basement – hardly attracted a dozen. If these candidates were two musicians, and one was selling out arenas while the other was playing to fill a little pub, which act would a record company executive bet on becoming a global success?

For the past ten American presidential elections, 19 counties, often referred to as the 'bellwether counties', predicted the outcome of the race. In 2020, Donald Trump won all these counties, but Biden won the presidency.

At midnight on election night, vote counting mysteriously stopped in five states – Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin, Nevada and North Carolina – where Trump had a significant lead over Biden. The next morning, Biden suddenly had more votes than Trump. Only one state in history has ever nearly 100 per cent of the votes which arrived during this suspicious pause gone to the challenger.

Certain that the election was fraught with fraud, Trump and some of his supporters challenged the results of the 2020 election with dozens of lawsuits. But most of the cases were dismissed on what is known as 'legal standing', which is a legal term that states the party has not alleged a sufficient legal interest and injury to bring a lawsuit.

However, Dinesh D'Souza's new political documentary, 2,000 Mules, just might Trump's lawsuits a leg to stand on.

Using geotracking, a technology that tracks the exact position of a person by obtaining data from his or her smartphone or similar devices, Catherine Engelbrecht and Gregg Phillips of True the Vote were able to expose a couple of hundred mules (people who illegally collected and deposited voting ballots) travelling between pro-Biden campaign offices and ballot drop boxes during the final month of the election season. … continue

Blog Roll

Subscribe to Aletho News

Enter your email address to receive new posts by email.

Join 2,775 other followers

Enter your email address

Sign me up!

Visits Since December 2009

5,706,807 hits

Looking for something?

Search

Archives

Select Month

Calendar

M	T	W	T	F	S	S
						1
2	3	4	5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12	13	14	15
16	17	18	19	20	21	22
23	24	25	26	27	28	29
30	31

« Apr

Categories

Aletho News Book Review
Civil Liberties
Corruption
Deception
Economics
Environmentalism
Ethnic Cleansing, Racism, Zionism
False Flag Terrorism
Fake News
Full Spectrum Dominance
Illegal Occupation
Mainstream Media, Warmongering
Militarism
Progressive Hypocrite
Russophobia
Science and Pseudo-Science
Solidarity and Activism
Supremacism, Social Darwinism
Torture
Timeless or most popular
War Crimes
Wars for Israel

Tags

9/11 Afghanistan Africa AIPAC al-Qaeda Argentina Australia BBC Benjamin Netanyahu Brazil Canada Central Intelligence Agency China CIA CNN Colombia Covid-19 COVID-19 Vaccine Da'wah Donald Trump Egypt European Union Facebook FBI France Gaza Germany Google Hamas Hebron Hezbollah Hillary Clinton Human rights India Iran Iraq ISIS Israel Israeli settlement Japan Jerusalem Joe Biden John Kerry Korea Latin America Lebanon Libya Middle East National Security Agency NATO New York Times North Korea NSA Obama Pakistan Palestine Qatar Russia Sanctions against Iran Saudi Arabia Syria The Guardian Turkey Twitter UAE UK Ukraine United Nations United States USA Venezuela Washington Post West Bank Yemen Zionism

Recent Comments

jbthering on World Bank to receive $450 mil…
papasha408 on It's Time That U.S. Taxpayers… papasha408 on Pfizer Document Dump Shows Doc…
papasha408 on World Bank to receive $450 mil…
papasha408 on WHO pandemic treaty: A fresh p…
brianharyanatoday on Israeli forces use Palestinian…
Hans on $65 billion in US aid to…
5 dancing idiomas on Israeli forces use Palestinian…
5 dancing idiomas on Is Monkeypox Hype a Paid Media…
papasha408 on Is Monkeypox Hype a Paid Media…
Brotherhitzer on Damascus Says Areas of Syria O…
THX1138 on Israeli forces use Palestinian…

Contact:

athenonews (at) gmail.com

Disclaimer

This site is provided as a research and reference tool. Although we make every reasonable effort to ensure that the information and data provided at this site are useful, accurate, and current, we cannot guarantee that the information and data provided here will be error-free. By using this site, you assume all responsibility for and risk arising from your use of and reliance upon the contents of this site.

This site and the information available through it do not, and are not intended to constitute legal advice. Should you require legal advice, you should consult your own attorney.

Nothing within this site or linked to by this site constitutes investment advice or medical advice.

Materials accessible from or attached to this site by third parties, such as comments posted, are strictly the responsibility of the third party who added such materials or made them accessible and we neither endorse nor undertake to control, monitor, edit or assume responsibility for any such third-party material.

The posting of stories, commentaries, reports, documents and links (embedded or otherwise) on this site does not in any way, share or form, implied or otherwise, necessarily express or suggest endorsement or support of any of such posted material or parts therein.

The word "alleged" is deemed to occur before the word "fraud." Since the rule of law still applies. To peasants, at least.

Fair Use

This site contains copyrighted material the use of which has not always been specifically authorized by the copyright owner. We are making such material available in our efforts to advance understanding of environmental, political, human rights, economic, democracy, scientific, and social justice issues, etc. We believe this constitutes a 'fair use' of any such copyrighted material as provided for in section 107 of the US Copyright Law. In accordance with Title 17 U.S.C. Section 107, the material on this site is distributed without profit to those who have expressed a prior interest in receiving the included information for research and educational purposes. For more info go to: http://www.law.cornell.edu/uscode/17/107.shtml. If you wish to use copyrighted material from this site for purposes of your own that go beyond 'fair use', you must obtain permission from the copyright owner.

DMCA Contact

This is information for anyone that wishes to challenge our "fair use" of copyrighted material.

If you are a legal copyright holder or a designated agent for such and you believe that content residing on or accessible through our website infringes a copyright and falls outside the boundaries of "Fair Use", please send a notice of infringement by contacting athenonews@gmail.com.

We will respond and take necessary action immediately.

If notice is given of an alleged copyright violation we will act expeditiously to remove or disable access to the material(s) in question.

All 3rd party material posted on this website is copyright the respective owners / authors. Aletho News makes no claim of copyright on such material.

Aletho News

VAERS Data Show New Deaths, Injuries After COVID Vaccines, Boosters, Up 31% Over Past Four Weeks
May 20, 2022

Pfizer Document Dump Shows Doctor With Ties to Gates Foundation Deleted Trial Participant's Vaccine Injury
May 20, 2022

Why is it ok to revoke $450 million in aid to start pandemic preparedness fund
May 20, 2022

WHO pandemic treaty: A fresh push for vaccine passports, global surveillance, and more
May 20, 2022

Is Monkeypox Hype a Paid Media Campaign?
May 20, 2022

Governments worried about Covid misinformation should start with their own lies and distortions: Indiana AG
May 20, 2022

Why is a New War Coming to Afghanistan?
May 20, 2022

House passes antisemitism resolution calling for surveillance and censorship of criticism of Israel
May 20, 2022

Israeli forces use Palestinian girl as a human shield in Jenin
May 20, 2022

US setting up military bases in eastern Yemen, moving in on UN-brokered truce: Ansarullah
May 20, 2022

$65 billion in taxpayers' aid for Ukraine' is neither aid nor is it for Ukraine. The Congress Dinosaurs Says Areas of Syria Occupied by Terrorists Have Soon Return to Syrian Control
May 20, 2022

Caught on camera – how Trump was robbed of the 2020 election
May 20, 2022

Big Pharma-funded paper misrepresents trial data, unvaccinated
May 20, 2022

Ex-FBI General Counsel Says Russia Found No Evidence of Link Between Trump, Russian Bank: Report
May 20, 2022

Vaccine Overdose Delivered More Risk Than Benefit in Trials for Children 5 to 11, Senior New York Times Positive Spin
May 20, 2022

School shutdowns harm children. The CDC lists to tell us
May 19, 2022

Bill Gates and the Coordinated Campaign for Nasal Spray Vaccines
May 19, 2022

OffGuardian

The WHO is changing their International Health Regulations…& that's NOT good
May 20, 2022

WATCH: Iran Rolls Out Digital Food Rationing System
May 20, 2022

Corporate Takeover of Indian Agriculture Still Looms
May 18, 2022

Richie Allen

Obese People To Outnumber The Healthy Within Five Years
May 19, 2022

Trans Shopper Tells Company: "Stop Replacing People With Mannequins" Or Else
Pentagon Says US Military Has Not Been Ordered to Listen To 2022 Mid-Terms
Police Officer Says She Has Been Forced To Use Food Banks
May 18, 2022

Consent Factory

The Rise of the New Normal
Reich
May 9, 2022

If Americans Knew

Israeli forces use Palestinian girl as human shield in Jenin
May 20, 2022

Shireen Abu Akleh's death exposes Israel for what it is – a murderous regime
May 18, 2022

Giraldi on Ukraine, Israeli murders, David Brog, USS Liberty, Kara, et-Tor
May 17, 2022

Not A Lot Of People Know That

Go Organic And Starve!
May 20, 2022

Anniversary Of The Moore Tornado
May 20, 2022

BBC Climate Check
May 19, 2022

BBC Blame Global Warming For Tornado That Never Happened
May 18, 2022

No Tricks Zone

The Southwest Atlantic To West Antarctic Peninsula Region Has Not Warmed Since The 1990s
May 19, 2022

German Conservationists Score Win In Battle To Protect 1,000-Year Old 'Grimm's Fairytale Forest' From Green Insanity
May 19, 2022

Sebastian Rushworth M.D.

What defines a good drug?
April 14, 2022

More Links

Al-Manar
International Middle East Media Center
Press TV

Related posts: